BORNEO

LAST CHANCE TO EXPLORE THE MIGHTY RAJANG

March 2012 will see our last river expedition in Borneo on the Orient Pandaw. It is with immense sadness that we are pulling out of this fascinating destination. The logistical and operational difficulties of working in so tough an environment have made the project commercially unsuccessful. Despite these challenges the Pandaw Borneo team have a well run operation and levels of comfort and service on board up to top Pandaw standards. The river and jungle really is amazing and a must for keen river explorers.

There is still some space left between now and March and we highly recommend a stop off in Kuching and even a trip to the Mulu Caves.
