Winter 2012 sees the new ship in Voyages of Discovery's fleet, Voyager, embark on her inaugural itinerary that captures the cultural diversity and natural wonders of South and Central America, plus the idyllic Caribbean. Highlights include a Christmas and New Year sailing through the Caribbean Sea and a Central American voyage to the heartlands of ancient civilisations, including the opportunity to visit Uxmal and Chichen Itza in Mexico and Ultan Ha in Belize. Voyager will also cruise to the southern tip of South America and Chile's very own Lake District - Patagonia, as well as sailing down the Amazon River to explore its magnificent rainforest, including a visit to Boca de Valeria, a remote jungle village.

Voyager's pre or post cruise extensions, including escorted tours with guided sightseeing and a number of city or beach resort stays, are the perfect way to explore before you embark or after you disembark. Details are below.

After a period of extensive refurbishment, Discovery returns in March 2012, with a series of cruises exploring the ancient wonders of the Eastern Mediterranean, the historic Black Sea and beautiful islands of the Atlantic.
